A warm welcome and traditional hospitality awaits guests at the Plough and Harrow Hotel Birmingham.

Built in 1704, originally as a wayside inn, the hotel has over the centuries become steeped in history and is recalled by many as being one of the most popular places to stay in Birmingham during the last few decades. The red brick Victorian architecture of the original building together with the large garden, lawns and plentiful car parking serves to set the Plough & Harrow Hotel apart from other Birmingham hotels.

Recently upgraded, this 45 bedroom hotel brings a country house style to the city with elegant & intimate lounges, a restaurant & terrace overlooking the garden & a traditional pub appropriately, as the hotel is in Edgbaston, called Stumps.

While staying at the hotel guests are within 1 mile of Broad Street, the NIA, ICC, Symphony Hall, the Botanical Gardens and Edgbaston Cricket Club as well as the shopping precinct & other attractions.

The hotel has 6 meeting & conference rooms and can cater for wedding receptions and private events for up to 120 guests.
